BRITAX APPOINTS BBS TO MANAGE THREE OCCUPATIONAL PENSION SCHEMES

Global child car seat manufacturer Britax has appointed one of the UK's leading independent pension specialists to manage its three company pension schemes.

BBS Consultants & Actuaries will provide actuarial services to the Trustee of the three Britax pension schemes which provide benefits to around 800 deferred and pensioner members.

“Britax is known throughout the world for the quality of its child safety travel products and we are looking forward to working with the Trustee to the schemes,” said Peter Bainbridge, director at BBS.

The Britax announcement comes shortly after Bristol-based BBS announced the results of its latest Quality Survey which showed a current client satisfaction level of over 90 per cent.

It also comes as the pension firm celebrates achieving the coveted ISO9001 status awarded to companies which demonstrate a dedication to customer care and continuous business improvement.

Stephanie Barter, Chair of the Trustee, said: “BBS was able to demonstrate clearly and effectively why they were the people to look after our members’ interests and to ensure the schemes run smoothly.

“They offer top quality actuarial advice and I have no doubt they are the right business to carry out this crucial function on our behalf.”

Britax began making automotive safety equipment and accessories in 1938. In the 1970s the company began to make childcare safety products, primarily child safety seats and buggies.
