SEMINAR WILL ALERT PENSION SCHEME TRUSTEES TO THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES

A two-day seminar to help improve pension scheme trustees' understanding of their roles and responsibilities takes place in Bristol in October.

The course, run by BBS Consultants & Actuaries, the South West's largest independent firm of pensions advisers, takes place on the 19th and 20th.

Over the two days BBS's experts will cover all elements of what the Pension Regulator expects from scheme trustees and the sessions will cover subjects including the legal framework, funding and investment basics.

BBS director Peter Bainbridge said: "The course will be very relevant to all trustees and, in particular, new and existing trustees who need a refresher on the scope and knowledge required.

"Separately, the course may be of benefit to senior company officials who have a direct dealing with their company pension scheme by gaining a clearer insight into the statutory requirements placed on trustees."

To reserve your place on the course in October please contact Catherine Symonds on email catherine.symonds@bbs-actuaries.co.uk or by 'phone 0117 937 8773.

Ends 8th September 2011
